

JAPS AGAIN ROUT FOE IN LAND FIGHT

Osar's Forces Reported to Have Lost 1500 Men While Resisting the Japanese Advance Through Rugged Country About Hsin Yen.

RUMOR NOT CONFIRMED,
BUT REGARDED AS PROBABLE

Mikado's Armies Are Closing Around
Port Arthur and Preparing for a United Attack on the beleaguered Russian City.

SHAN HAI KWAN, May 14.— 9:30 p. m.—A report of a severe engagement in the hills around Hsin Yen last Thursday has been received here.

The Russians are said to have lost 1500 men, killed and wounded, and the Japanese occupied the town of Hsin Yen. The Japanese loss is not given.

It is impossible to obtain confirmation here of the report, but a battle there is not unlikely, as this place is in the path of the advance of the First Japanese army corps.

Hai Cheng is the apparent objective point of this corps.

Hsin Yen is situated in the midst of rugged hills, where a small force could resist the enemy with telling effect before being compelled to retreat.

JAPANESE ARE FAST

CLOSING ABOUT PORT

ARTHUR FOR STRUGGLE

TOKIO, May 14, 4 p. m.—A detachment of Japanese troops has occupied Kwan-Tien-Shien, 60 miles northeast of Feng-Wang-Cheng.

On Thursday last a detachment of Japanese attacked and dispersed 300 Russian cavalrymen and captured a wounded officer and two men. The Russian cavalry was retreating from Tsch-Li-Chan.

The Japanese troops continue landing at Pitewo, and the railroad has been cut again, 17 miles of track being gone. Communication, however, for that distance has been kept open by the aid of carts.

The Port Arthur mail is about 26 hours old when it gets to New-Chwang. This morning a few more troops left there and moved to the Russian camp three miles east of the city, which is now practically unprotected. Two correspondents went over New-Chwang last night and did not see a single sentry on duty. The natives are growing more restless as the Russians continue to move out.

HURLED FROM ENGINE CAB

Wabash Engine "Let's Go" at Poag, Seriously Injuring Fireman Walter A. Lowe of Decatur, Ill.

Wabash engine 113 "let go" at Poag, near Edwardsville, Ill., at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and the engine, with the fireman, was burned and blown out of the cab, sustaining serious injuries.
The engine was hauling a freight train and had stopped at the station. Fred Donahue, the engineer, and J. J. Jordan, the conductor, had stepped down from the train, and were standing some distance from the engine when it exploded and curled. They saw Lowe hurled out of the cab, and through the air, and alight upon his head.

The engine was old, and some of the pipes had burst. Lowe was the only person injured. His home is at 225 East Marietta street, Decatur, Ill. He has been taken to the Wabash hospital at Springfield, Ill.

SUNSHINY SUNDAY IS COMING

Spring Suits Will Be Made Appropriate by Weather Predicted For the Coming Day.

That new spring suit will be the proper thing tomorrow. The weather is going to be fair and warmer. There is even something alliteratively alluring about the official phrase:

"Fresh winds, shifting to southerly, Sunday afternoon," making the outlook for a pleasant Sunday ideal.

The forecast:
"Fair tonight and Sunday; rising temperature Sunday;
fresh west to northwest winds, shifting to southerly Sunday afternoon."

There was frost
last night in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and freezing temperatures were reported in Wyoming. So general a frost this late in the spring is unusual.

Showers during the last 24 hours were reported in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, Utah, Idaho and Washington and in the Lake region.

CLARA BARTON QUILTS; RED CROSS WAR ENDS

Mrs. John A. Logan, Widow of the Illinois Soldier, Succeeds Famous Nurse as President of the Society.

MISS CLARA BARTON.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Miss Clara Barton today resigned the presidency of the American Red Cross and was succeeded by Mrs. John A. Logan, who has heretofore occupied the office of vice-president of the association.

The cause of Miss Barton's retirement is said to have been the trouble in the society due to factional differences.

The faction hostile to Miss Barton charged mismanagement. An examination of the society recently by a committee showed it to be in excellent condition.

Clara Barton is America's Florence Nightingale. Her life has been passed amid scenes of carnage, famine and pestilence. Miss Barton is a native of Massachusetts, and is 62 years old. She was the idol of the soldiers of the Union army in the 60s.

She was at Cedar Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Falmouth and at the siege of Charleston. When the war ended she went to Europe to recuperate. While there she promptly offered her services. At Metz and Paris, and many other scenes of conflict she ministered to and comforted the wounded and dying. Her services were acknowledged by the Emperor of Germany by a presentation of the Order of the Iron Cross. As president of the Red Cross, founded in 1884, Miss Barton rendered efficient service to the sufferers of the Ohio and Johnstown floods, the Michigan fire, the Charleston earthquake, and other national calamities. During the famine in Russia, Miss Barton rendered important service. She was in Havana at the time of the "Maine" disaster, and, with her staff of workers, was promptly at the bedside of our wounded sailors, who were rescued from the exploded and sinking warship.

One of the last great acts as the head of the Red Cross Society was to take charge of the sick and wounded at Galveston during the big flood and distribute the relief contributions sent there by the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

CAN THEY LIVE ON 30C DAILY?

Lewis Yost, Who Has Been Spending but 15 Cents for His "Keep"
Takes a Wife.

SHE IS A VEGETARIAN ALSO

Chances Are She Can—She Has Prepared His Frugal Diet for Some Time and Ought to Know.

If a popular theory of domestic economy is not to be denied, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Yost of West St. Louis will live on 15 cents per day, board bill, both during and after their honeymoon. At least their daily expenses for board should not exceed 30 cents.

They have recently been married. The bride, who was Miss Lillie of 254 A Hamilton avenue, having been won over by Yost's demonstration that both the pocketbook and the stomach can be benefited by a simple diet of fruit, nuts and a certain bread.

Yost was a World's Fair contractor, but had indignation before he secured that job, and last December began a course of dieting, which he thought would cure him, and at the same time enable him to fulfill his financial obligations in connection with the World's Fair contracts. ed to room at the home of Mrs. Lillie, and in course of time communicated to her the secret of existence. She became interested, finally tried it herself and eventually decided to share his simple fare for all time.

Yost's breakfast consisted of an apple and a slice of bread. Lunch consisted of fruit, figs and nuts, and dinner was bread, two apples and a handful of nuts.

On this fare Yost has lived well and has been cured of the indigestion.

ney Trouble at His Home.

William R. Cottrill, a well-known resident of St. Louis, died at his home, 706 o'clock, from kidney trouble. Mr. Cottrill was 71 years of age, was born in Lucerne

when he went to California for his health.

aine Cemetery.

DEADLOCK NOT BROKEN, NINETEEN BALLOTS TAKEN

After Four Hours of Changeless Voting the Convention Takes a Recess for an Hour to Rest the Tired Delegates.

DELEGATES AS A WHOLE
STAND BY FAVORITES

Cannon Is Ruling With an Iron Hand and Keeping the Spectators From the Floor, and Riotous Scenes of Last Night Are Avoided.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 14.—There is no sign of the breaking of the deadlock in the fight for the governorship nomination in the Illinois Republican convention.

When the convention met this morning and resumed balloting, there was no material change from the situation at the adjournment of the convention at 10:15 last night after the fifteenth ballot.

The roll-calling began as soon as Chairman Cannon opened the convention this morning. The sixteenth ballot resulted as follows:

Yates, 42; 4-5; Lowden, 43; Deneen, 23;
Hamlin, 110; 3-4; Sherman, 67; 3-5; Warner, 38; 4-5; Pierce, 21.

The fifteenth ballot last night resulted:
Yates, 48; Lowden, 40; 3-2; Deneen, 35;
Hamlin, 111; Warner, 30; Sherman, 51;
Pierce, 21. At 10:15 p. m. the convention took a recess until 10 a. m. today.

It will thus be seen that, while Yates lost approximately 14 votes during the 12 hours' recess and Lowden gained 23, the change is not material. The followers of the various candidates are still "standing pat." The balloting may go on indefinitely.

DeKalb County, voting its 15 delegates solid for Yates all through the 15 ballots yesterday, stopped to Lowden on the first roll-call, but the change was not sufficient to do the Chicago candidate material good.

Madison and St. Clair counties voted this morning as they did yesterday. Madison—Yates, 6; Lowden, 1; Hamlin, 5; Deneen, 1;
Sherman, 1. St. Clair—Lowden, 13; Deneen, 11; Hamlin, 2; Sherman, 1.

The seventeenth and No Stamped.

The seventeenth ballot was as follows:
Yates, 48; Lowden, 40; 3-2; Deneen, 35;
Hamlin, 111; Warner, 30; Sherman, 51;
Pierce, 21. On this ballot Bureau threw 13 delegates to Pierce. DeKalb again shifted and returned to Yates and he also gained one in Dupage. Ford cast its seven votes for Deneen.

Lowden gained one in Jackson and Yates one in Madison. Wabash split its votes between Yates, Hamlin and Warner and Hamlin gained one in Woodford.
Just before the result of the second ballot was announced Congressman Rodeburg of East St. Louis said:

"Two more ballots like this and delegates will go away from the leaders, and God only knows where the nomination will go."

"Why not take the St. Clair district and I will take the rest of the state?"
These are getting ready for it, but I do not know whether it could be accomplished."

The eighteenth ballot was: Yates, 48;
Lowden, 42; Deneen, 35; Hamlin, 118; Sherman, 50; Warner, 36; Pierce, 22.

Cannon Held Report on Ballot Half Hour.

There was a long delay after the eighteenth ballot was taken, giving some of the delegates an opportunity to talk it over. Various lieutenants of the candidates hurried about the hall holding whispered conferences, but nothing developed on the next eighteenth ballot for half an hour after it was handed up by the secretaries. And Cannon ordered the voting to proceed.

The nineteenth ballot: Yates, 49; Low-den, 40; Deneen, 37; Hamlin, 119; Sherman, 50; Warner, 37; Pierce, 21.

Things are going along more leisurely now than at any time since the balloting began yesterday. Everybody is tired, not one-fifth of the delegates securing anything like their usual rest last night. Those who were up all night in the different conferences remained about the hotels, hoping "to be let in on anything that was coming off," but in this were disappointed. No thought was given to luncheon or dinner yesterday, but today there are many vacant chairs in the delegations, and many who remained had luncheon carried to them.

At 1:45 E. J. Murphy, warden of the Joliet penitentiary and a Yates leader, moved that a recess be taken until 3 o'clock. On a viva voce vote, the speaker declared the motion carried.

Warner a Possible
Compromise Candidate.

Congressman Warner may be sprung before the convention today as a compromise candidate. He has been upon the platform seated near Chairman Cannon since the convention opened. With Cannon to his right and Hopkins to his left, he has made himself as conspicuous as possible. His face beamed with smiles, a glad hand and a good word for everybody. The program now is to push him as a compromise candidate. There has been considerable talk about Warner along these lines all winter.
He invaded some counties, capturing a small ones and receiving unmerciful drubbings in others.

Missouri Postoffice Robbed.

NEVADA, Mo., May 14.—Thieves broke into the Nevada postoffice, northeast of Nevada last night, robbing it of a small amount of money and postage stamps.

ORPHAN GIRLS DEDICATE BELGIAN PAVILION WITH ROSES AND CARNATIONS

BARON MONCHEUR. MADAME CARLIER. COMMISSIONER CARLIER.

Wife of Royal Commissioner, as Hostess of 383 Children From Institutions, Gives Them a Day of Happiness at the Fair.

Three hundred and eighty-three orphan girls, ranging in age from 8 to 16 years, and all wearing pretty white and blue dresses, were guests of honor at the opening of the Belgian pavilion at the World's Fair Saturday.

The children are inmates of orphan homes, and were especially invited by Mme.
Jules Carlier, wife of the Belgian commissioner-general. They came to the pavilion in a long line, headed by two very small girls, Jessie Olney and Lillian Kramer, bearing baskets of carnations and roses for their hostess.

As the little ones reached the door of the pavilion they were met and welcomed by Mme. Carlier, M. Carlier, Baron Moncheur, minister from Belgium to Washington, and numerous distinguished St. Louisans and representatives of foreign governments.
They formally presented the flowers to Mme. Carlier, and were then taken in charge and shown through the building.

The first thing which attracted their attention was a large portrait of the Crown Prince Albert of Belgium, holding in her arms her little son Leopold. The children looked upon this portrait with great delight and had many words of praise for the beauty of the crown princess and the little boy.

Under the guidance of Mme. Carlier and Misses Josie Pironon and Rose Hirsch, the visitors were shown through each of the rooms in the Belgian pavilion, and all the interesting things explained to them.

Afterward they were taken to the Administration restaurant for luncheon. There they were met by President Francis, who mounted on a chair, made a short speech, telling them of Belgium, its form of government and little personal bits of its history.

COCKRELL TRY TO SAVE STONE?

Governor Will Endanger His Own Chances as Delegate If He Works For Senator.

COCKRELL "BOOM" IS FLAT

Stone Would Make His Own Selection Logical by Making Congressmen District Delegates.

Dispatches from Washington to the Post-Dispatch state that Senator William J. Stone is anxious to head the Missouri delegation to the national Democratic convention, and to that end has discussed the political situation at length with Senator Cockrell, whose presidential boom this far has failed to show any signs of life.

It is understood that Stone favors the election of congressmen as district delegates, a plan which would check opposition to himself as a delegate-at-large. That the junior Missouri senator is trying to force himself as a campaign manager upon Cockrell, just as he did with Bland, is the belief of Washington statesmen.

At the national capital the Cockrell presidential movement is not taken seriously, and mention of Stone's name as the possible leader of it always produces significant smiles.

"It is recognized that Cockrell can get no support whatever from Texas," said a congressman to the Post-Dispatch. "Bland got this delegation in its entirety in 1898, and he is leading the fight for Parker in that state, is unalterably opposed to Cockrell. There is a possibility of a delegation from Arkansas friendly to Cockrell."

"Stone's friends are urging Cockrell to the belief that he (Stone) would be a most effective campaign manager."

Clark Rejects Stone's Suggestion.

The plain fact is that Cockrell has no feature of nomination, and the vegetable feature of his endorsement by the Missouri delegation is that Cockrell does not see or does nothing to offset the political drawbacks who are using him to control the delegation in the next convention.

"I will state that I had a long talk with Cockrell recently, and he did not mention Stone's name to me. I do not think he would have said so had he told Cockrell very plainly that I would not be for Stone under any circumstances."

Clark declined, saying he intended to make the race for delegate-at-large.

In this connection the Post-Dispatch's informant referred to a request made of Congressman Champ Clark by Senator Stone, who asked Clark to run as a district delegate.

The fourth delegate will be Gov. Dockery, unless Stone should be strong enough to capture enough votes to defeat the chief executive.

But the Stone and Dockery will both go as now recognized as a political impossibility.

Stone Movement

Will Start Fight.

The folk forces who will control the Joplin convention say they cannot afford to have more than one machine man on the ticket. As has been customary for 25 years to make the governor one of the delegates-at-large, the Stone movement, there is no particular desire to cut Dockery's wings.

What one thing must happen: If the governor and his machine attempt to foist Stone upon the delegates, the chief politicians believe there will be one of the fiercest fights ever seen in a Missouri convention hall.

"If the Democratic party," said a strong folk man, "has been customary for 25 years to make the governor one of the delegates-at-large, the Stone movement, there is no particular desire to cut Dockery's wings."

What one thing must happen: If the governor and his machine attempt to foist Stone upon the delegates, the chief politicians believe there will be one of the fiercest fights ever seen in a Missouri convention hall.

Stone's lobby record smells to heaven. At every turn the Stone machine has been making a record for itself. There is not a political development of the last six months in which the Stone machine has not been making a record for itself. There is not a political development of the last six months in which the Stone machine has not been making a record for itself.

Postoffice Inspector Robbed of Suit Case Containing Documents.

Valuable papers, representing the work of months, and almost impossible to duplicate, were stolen, together with a suit case, from Postoffice Inspector C. W. Crawford of Indianapolis in the Union Station Friday evening.

Mr. Crawford had been in St. Louis several days on departmental business, and the result of his work, including evidence against accused persons, testimony and other documents, was in his suit case and in his old and somewhat shabby suit case.

Because of his dilapidated appearance, Mr. Crawford thought he was safe in leaving it for a minute on the floor of the Union Station, while he stepped down stairs to get a cigar.

When he returned the value was gone. Owing to an important engagement in Indianapolis, he was unable to leave the city without waiting to make investigation.

Policeman's Explanation of Arrest Arouses Judge Tracy's Wrath.

Charles Meek, one of the new emergency policemen, offended Judge Tracy with uncouth language on the witness stand in the City Hall police court Saturday morning, and was dismissed from the stand and severely reprimanded.

Meek was telling why he had arrested James Haganey at Broadway and Rutgers street. He said:

"He was drunk and raising ——" Judge Tracy started, fixed his eye upon the officer and asked:

"How did you get on the police force? You don't know enough to be a policeman. You court in any case, I have to hear enough offensive language from witnesses without having any contributed by officers. I don't hear you further. You may go."

Haganey was fined $2 and costs.

FAIR A VAGNET FOR ALL EUROPE

Ocean Steamship Lines Expect More Travel to United States Than Ever Before.

STEAMER CABINS ARE FILLED

Foreign Visitors Make Exposition the Occasion for Carrying Out Long Deferred Plans.

NEW YORK, May 14.—In spite of the gloomy predictions of steamship agents and others several months ago, travelers are beginning again to cross the Atlantic in large numbers, and the outlook is now for a much better season in ocean travel. Especially true is it that large numbers of foreigners are coming to America nowadays. Indeed, never in the history of steamships have so many European tourists been arriving in America as at present.

Steamship men agree that the St. Louis Fair is largely responsible for this foreign "invasion." Travelers themselves say that they have long planned the journey to America, and the Exposition has furnished them with a good excuse, for the time of their visit has not been contemplated a visit to Niagara Falls, to Washington and to Chicago, while many will go as far west as San Francisco.

Speaking yesterday of the outlook for the summer, Gustav H. Schwab of the North German Lloyd line said: "Our experience is that traffic will be larger than last year. It is surprising how within the last three months the demand has picked up, and the booking is greater than ever."

Emil Boas of the Hamburg-American line said: "Everything with us is now filled until the first week in July. The season was slow in opening, but people as a rule do not later to Europe now than formerly. The increase in western travel is due to the St. Louis Fair, and the bulk of the travelers are coming from Germany."

Official of the International Mercantile Marine Co. said that bookings had been poor up to the middle of this month, but for June they were quite good. "There is no doubt but that this is an off year," he said. "The St. Louis Fair will keep at some many of that class who have just so much vacation money to spend, and political conventions and the election will have their effect on others."

While our steamers are not entirely filled, the demand for cabins is constantly on the increase," said a Cunard official, "and the demand for food and other necessities is also increasing."

One of the managers of the French line said that his company was doing much better than was expected a month ago.

Grudging Support Given to Police Appropriation Bill by Four Members of the House.

The deed of the pen which interested city employees Saturday was the signing of the annual appropriation bill by Mayor Wells. Joy reigned in all the offices except that of Treasurer Francis, where a gloomy silence reigned Saturday afternoon and most of Sunday to get the payrolls verified so that payment may begin Monday morning.

The bill was passed at Friday night's session of the house of delegates, was signed by President Hornsby of the council, and was returned to the house and signed by Speaker Gatzert.

When the police appropriation bill came up Friday night, Delegates McAuliffe and Stoops voted "yes." Afterwards, when it was announced that an affirmative vote was made compulsory by state law under the provisions of the office and a $1000 fine, they reconsidered.

Delegates Wiedner and Witbeck voted "no." Under protest, the latter other making a vain attempt to be excused from going on record.

The house also passed a bill regulating the per cent rate of tax and a measure providing for payment of the city's debt with interest.

JEFFERSON GUARDS CONFESS TO THEFT

Took Articles of Food From Buildings to Cheapen Cost of Their Living.

Henry W. Switzer and Bruce L. Ott, members of Company B of the World's Fair Jefferson Guard, were sent to the Four Courts Friday night and locked up for admitted thieving in the Horticultural and California buildings.

Switzer was on guard at the door of the Horticultural building. As he emerged from the building Friday night at 8 o'clock, Special Officers McClellan and Fowler, whose suspicions were aroused by the guard's bulging pockets, arrested and searched him. They found two oranges and a bottle of pickles in his pockets.

Switzer admitted that the articles had been stolen, and said they had been given to him by Otto, who was on duty inside the building. He was arrested and admitted the charge of theft. He said that the wages of the members of the guard were so low and their expenses so high that many of the guards in the vicinity of the Horticultural and California buildings were taking food from the buildings to cheapen the cost of living by taking fruits, pickles, wines, etc., from the exhibits.

SCOUTS PREFER DRILLING TO TAKING NEEDED SLEEP.

What with all the unusual "stunts" which the Philippine scouts are learning, one of their drills will be before long a spectacle worth going miles to see.

They already have a musical drill which all who have heard it, but they are putting some frills on it that will make a great hit with the crowds who watch them at dress parade.

They are rapidly becoming proficient in the complete manual of calisthenic drill to music with and without guns. There are many movements not taught in gymnasia.

Orders were given Friday by Executive Commissioner Fielder, at the request of Mr. Johnson, for the construction of two fences, both 25 feet long, and one seven feet high and the other 10 feet high.

On these the scouts will be trained in fence scaling as a part of their calisthenic drill.

The men are so enthusiastic over the drill that they have to be ordered to their tents at night. One after another the squads of them drill in the company of the other squads, and they will work all day on either the Exposition buildings or about the camp.

RADIUM AGAIN

Extraordinary Experiments at the World's Fair Attracting Attention in Europe.

Some astonishing things are to be done with radium at the World's Fair. Great scientists from many lands are coming to see these things done and to help do them.

Tomorrow's Sunday Post-Dispatch tells the story and prefaces it with a mastery of color.

A wife prevented by law from hugging and kissing her husband—saw that a measly way for romance. That was a St. Louis romance, too, more so, the story is one of the most peculiar that has developed in the life in modern times. Even its pictures are necessarily of a day.

Among the other interesting things to be seen at the World's Fair will be the most sentimental conditions under the most sentimental conditions. That is a great sight. No other World's Fair has ever offered such an attraction.

"Me fix 'em," said the new plumber, indignantly. "Well, I should say not."

"Why not?" asked the astonished commissioner.

"Because I didn't do that rotten work."

You find the plumber that did the botch and get him to fix."

And now Col. Yerrington is spending his leisure moments wandering around the plateau looking into each face he sees in the hope that it may prove to be that of the plumber in question.

Unless he succeeds, Col. Yerrington fears he may be compelled to go without water as well as lights and telephone.

FUNNY SIDE OF THE FAIR

IKRAN KHAN KELEKIAN, Persia's commissioner to the World's Fair, says he will send the Shah a self-playing piano from St. Louis.

The Shah is very much interested in new inventions," Mr. Kelekian says. "He has automobiles, telephones and typewriters now. But he has no self-playing piano. If there are any other new inventions displayed at the Exposition that the Shah can use, I shall send one of each to him."

The Shah-Muzafereddin will not come to St. Louis during the Exposition. Possibly the crown prince, the governor of Teheran, will come according to Mr. Kelekian.

The commissioner says the Shah would like to see the Exposition, but would not make the trip because it would necessitate a trip across the ocean. He says that the Shah would not like to travel by water. It is related that when he went to Paris and London during the Paris Exposition he had a warship on either side of his royal craft to protect it on the water.

A JEFFERSON GUARD belonging to Company C was illustrating his objections to the system of compelling members of that company to eat at a certain restaurant just outside of the Exposition gates.

"I had supper there last night and breakfast this morning," he said, "and I paid $1.50 out of my meal ticket."

"I get $1.50 a day salary and so, if I go without any dinner, I can save a good deal of money," he said, "and I can buy my laundry bills and incidental expenses and furnish me with clothing. I can be able to save almost a nickel every day."

PRINCE PU LUN'S age is officially given as 20.

Many who have seen the prince have remarked that he looks younger.

"What's my native county," said the president.

President Francis was born in Richmond, Ky., and his Kentucky commission was proudly displayed in the party for some time thereafter.

INCIDENTS frequently occur to show the cosmopolitan character of the Exposition. For instance, the manager of one of the telegraph offices was approached by a stranger who said:

"What's the newspaper rate to Japan?" It was given him, and a dispatch to a state of the newspaper was promptly filed.

A well-dressed man entered a telephone booth in the Administration building and waited a few minutes later, wearing a look of disgust. A band was playing just outside the booth.

"That band commenced to play," he declared. "Just I started to talk to New York."

COL. J. A. YERRINGTON, executive commissioner from Nevada, is looking for a plumber.

He does not know the name of the plumber he is looking for, but he would like to find him very much nevertheless.

Although one would not guess it from his appearance, Col. Yerrington has many troubles. His bungalow on the plateau of states is without a doubt the most picturesque of the Exposition.

It is a story of states in which the neighbors on the plateau have these accommodations out he has been unable to get them up to date, although they are promised him in the near future.

SEND YOURSELF A WIRELESS MESSAGE

Test of New System Is Granted Free to Visitors in Electricity Building.

World's Fair visitors, who, in traversing the corridors of the Electricity building, come in sight of the southwest corner for the first time, are half inclined to think that they have by mistake strayed into the Agricultural building. The four towers which rise among the rafters in that corner look very much like the underpinning of windmills.

They are nothing nearly so ancient as the homely windmill. They are a part of the paraphernalia of the very latest big thing in science, wireless telegraphy.

The towers and the rest of the exhibit of which it is a part are there to show how messages are sent and received without wires.

The exhibit is one place where telegrams may be sent without price, as well as without wires. The skeptic from Missouri or from any other state, who says "fiddlesticks," when told that messages can be shot off at the top of one of the towers and drop into another station, at the other side of the grounds, is handed a telegram blank, or rather an aerogram blank, and told to write a message.

His message is ticked up the tower and off to the air, and the skeptic finds himself waiting for him at one of the other stations on the grounds, and the operator's hand is on the keys of the machine, and the message is sent.

It is also possible for other skeptics to send messages from one station to the other. There are eight stations on the grounds and two automatic, which move about the grounds, are also receiving and sending stations.

Given Indeterminate Sentence.

John C. Lyons Friday entered a plea of guilty to the charge of larceny and grand larceny and was given an indeterminate term in the penitentiary for the construction of the tower at Belleville. Lyons is the man who recently made his escape by preceding to the St. Louis fairgrounds, where he was arrested by William Edwards of East St. Louis of goods valued at $12. Lyons is also charged with robbery.

Hold Boy for Robbery.

Vladimir Lamon, aged 10, was arrested before Justice of the Peace Wagon at Belleville Friday on the charge of burglary and highway robbery. The plaintiff in the case being Rex Allen, aged 13. The evidence was sufficient to warrant the arrest of the boy, who was held for $1000. He was taken to jail to await an investigation.

TRAIN WRECKERS ATTACK DISCOVERED

James Dunn of Sampel, Mo., Saves Waabash Express From Plunging Into Obstruction.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CHILLICOTHE, Mo., May 14.—An attempt to wreck the Waabash westbound passenger train near Sampel, the first station west of Chillicothe, this morning, was frustrated by James M. Dunn, a rural mail carrier, after Dunn had been almost killed by the would-be wreckers.

The Omaha train customarily passes through Sampel at 1:45 a. m., throwing off a mail sack there.

A part of Dunn's duty is to meet the train and take charge of the mail. This morning the train was about 30 minutes late and Dunn, to keep warm, walked up the track east. A short distance from the station he stumbled over some ties which had been laid across the track. As he fell two men jumped out of the bushes alongside the track and attacked him, one hitting him in the head with a club and the other stabbing him several times in the chest.

Dunn managed to escape and ran to his home in Sampel, getting assistance. His father, R. E. Dunn, had been almost killed by the would-be wreckers.

The stockholders of the bank are R. L. Rodman, president; F. R. Rucker, vice president; J. F. Allen, and Mrs. John Price.

The entrance was made by forcing a door open with a large railroad bar. The officials refuse to announce the amount of money stolen.

The robbery is believed to have been accomplished by three men who were seen driving west from Metis in a rubber-tired buggy at a rapid rate immediately after the explosion, which was heard by several persons.

A posse is in pursuit.

Make Draft of Garbage Bill.

In special session Saturday morning the Board of Public Improvements drew up a skeleton of the new garbage bill and submitted it to city trustees. It will pass upon it some time next week. It was thought advisable to get the city council's opinion first in order to avoid an adverse opinion, as was the case in the ordinance passed last Friday. Among the specifications named in the bill are the locations of the receiving stations, the river, central, Chouteau and the river, and on the south, Barton street and the river. As soon as passed upon by the council, the board will adopt the measure and forward it to the municipal assembly.

"Jai-Alai" Building, Where the Great Spanish Game Will Be Played.

OPENING OF GREAT "JAI-ALAI" GAME.

The Famous Game of Cuba and Spain to Open in St. Louis Tomorrow.

The great "Jai-Alai" (pronounced High-Ale), national ball game of Spain will open in St. Louis tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A stone building which has cost $300,000 has been erected near the main entrance to the World's Fair, at the corner of De Balvere avenue and Kingsbury boulevard, in which the game will be played.

The whole vast structure, ten-stories high, covers a block and is devoted to the game. The ball court occupies one-third of the building, the balance is admirably arranged like a theater to seat 600 spectators.

"Jai-Alai" or as it is known as "pelota" in Spain, is a very high development of what Americans call hand ball. It requires greater skill, however, and probably more strength and endurance. The game played tomorrow in St. Louis will be the first professional performance ever given in America.

The game is played with a ball somewhat like the American baseball, and a basket of peculiar construction, called a "cesta," which is used by the players to strike the ball, after being served against the first wall, at the beginning of any play, must strike the floor in order to be good.

STEELVILLE ROSES HEAVILY BY FIRE

Almost Entire Business Part of City Swept Away—Merchants Seeking Temporary Quarters.

STEELVILLE, Mo., May 14.—The most conservative estimate of the combined loss of the fire which swept away almost the entire business part of the city last night and today is $10,000,000. Probably $5,000,000 of this is covered by insurance.

This morning's merchants were engaging all the help to be had moving their stocks into available dwelling houses and preparing to open for any business possible. Lumber has been ordered for many temporary buildings, and merchants will occupy them as soon as possible. Most of the burned buildings will be rebuilt.

It was found this morning that the volunteer firemen had saved much of the stock of a number of business houses, although it is in a deplorable condition. Eight business houses out of 40 in the central part of town escaped the flames, and they are damaged by water and hurried removal of stock. The estimated losses are:

Ida Stanhope, Actress, Poses As the Belle of the Pike

Ida Stanhope as the Belle of the Pike.

Ida Stanhope has never seen the Pike, but she is the belle of it. The actress has been awarded this honor by no less an authority than James J. Hannerty, manager of the Century Theater. Mr. Hannerty has seen a world of actresses in his day, and when he looked around for a young lady for an American girl whose picture would give the proper charm to a march which the author of "Hiawatha" is writing for him, he thought of Miss Stanhope.

Miss Stanhope was in New York, just on the point of leaving for London, Mr.

Hannerty telephoned to her, and told her he wanted two poses, one to typify the belle of the Pike welcoming the world, and the other to fit the line "I'm from St. Louis, don't you know."

Miss Stanhope went to the Davies gallery and posed for the pictures, which are here reproduced for the first time. The march for which they have been made is to be entitled "The Belle of the Pike" and is to be a companion piece to "The Deed of the Pen" march written by Charles W. Daniels (Neil Moret).

GRAND ARMY STIRRED

Camp Fires Blaze with Joy Over Escape of General Bedell's War Orderly from a Paralytic's Fate.

When Mr. Ross C. Duffy, of No. 15 Russell avenue, Nashville, N.H., was suddenly prostrated by a paralytic shock, the deepest concern was felt throughout the town in which he had been a prominent official.

Grand Army men were especially solicitous for him in the Civil war Mr. Duffy had acted as General Bedell's orderly while serving with Co. F, Third regiment, New Hampshire Volunteer infantry, and after the war he became a member of General Foster Post, G. A. R., and rose to be department vice-commander.

The general anxiety felt about him after his sudden shock in the latter part of 1901, was slightly relieved by the news that he had come out of a state of unconsciousness which had lasted for five days, but as week after week went by and he made no further progress, one leg remaining paralyzed, it was concluded that the highly honored veteran must at best remain a cripple for life.

Suddenly the surprise and delight of every one Mr. Duffy appeared on the street in unmistakably robust health and was overwhelmed by congratulations and inquiries:

"The regular treatment," said Mr. Duffy, "didn't do a bit of good, so far as my paralyzed leg was concerned. My left leg remained cold and dead, and I had been too active a man to be content to be housed up with one dead leg if there was any possible way to cure it. I finally stumbled on help by the merest chance. I got my cure out of a Boston paper from the story of a war comrade, John Hunter, of Chico, Cal., who had been cured of a desperate attack of locomotor ataxia by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I sent for a box of the pills at once and in less than a month afterward I, too, became a perfectly well man as the result of using them and I have remained so ever since. No more vertigo, no more trouble with my stomach, none with my kidneys; in fact every organ seems to be doing its proper work. I certainly have good reason to be thankful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills are a life to my druggists throughout the world."

Woman Makes Futile Search in Belleville for Husband.

A middle-aged woman, stylishly dressed and giving her name as Mrs. Lenhardt of Chicago, spent Friday in Belleville searching for her husband, who she claims, met in the city of St. Louis in a most mysterious manner last January.

She worried over his disappearance until a day ago, when she received a type-written letter evidently signed by her husband, stating that he was in Belleville and in trouble. She immediately left her home in Chicago and came to this city in quest of Mr. Lenhardt. The police were unable to give her any information concerning the whereabouts of her husband.

She spent Friday night in the police station, sleeping in the chief's big arm chair. She declined to accept assistance and said she would rather wait back to Chicago, where she has relatives, than to accept a cent from a stranger.

The refined and cultivated woman, SANITOL, told her story to a reporter, saying: "I will tell you there is nothing like it in your youth. Try it for Goodness sake."

ROPES FORM A LIFE NET.

Ropes being used by painters at the Nelson Morris packing plant in East St. Louis saved the life of Peter Smith, a workman, who fell from the fifth story of the building Friday afternoon.

His body lodged in the ropes 15 feet from the ground and remained there 10 minutes. Other workmen erected an improvised scaffolding of boxes to reach him.

When the fellow workmen reached him, Smith was unconscious. He was immediately sent to a hospital. So great had been the force with which he struck the ropes that they cut deep into his flesh. He is expected to recover.

FILIPINO CAPTIVES WILL HAVE HEARING

Investigation by Government Board to Follow Removal of Visayans From Cartel to Village.

The "mystery of the cartel" was solved in a measure Friday afternoon when, for the first time in a month, access was free to the part of the building which had been for that period occupied by a tribe of Visayan Filipinos brought over by a concessionaire by the name of Healey.

The natives were removed early in the day to their village, to the vast satisfaction of everybody about the cartel. They had been locked and guarded in the building to prevent them from talking about their grievances. The condition in which the part of the building occupied by them was such suggested another reason for locking and guarding doors.

The rooms were littered with what seemed the leavings of a month's meals. Members of the Philippine constabulary who were sent into the "chamber of mystery," as it has come to be called about the cartel, came as near to having rebellious sentiments as they could get. They were so much real that they came near flooding out every day the floor below.

The Philippine Exposition board is conducting an investigation into the condition of the people who are present. The information was received by the board Friday that one of the women in the party is anxious to tell some things, and it is stated that she will be given a chance to do so.

PRINCE PU LUN GOES TO CHICAGO

Watch Presented to Chinese Commissioner by Exposition Officials as Memento During Absence.

Prince Pu Lun of China, who has been in St. Louis since April 23, left Saturday morning for Chicago and a tour of other American cities, at the conclusion of which he will return to St. Louis in June before going to China.

The prince was accompanied by Vice-Commissioner Wong Kai Kah and his retinue. The imperial party occupied a private car. All were attired in the plainest of their Chinese costumes.

Several World's Fair officials were at Union Station to bid the prince farewell. He had a hearty handshake for each of them, and through Mr. Wong expressed appreciation of the cordiality which had marked his reception and entertainment in St. Louis.

"I am delighted with St. Louis, with the World's Fair, with the people, and with the officials and the city officials, and with every one I have seen and all whom I have met," he said.

Prince Pu Lun made his final call on President Francis before leaving. He was accompanied by Mr. Wong and others of his retinue. President Francis received him cordially in his private office, and presented him with a very handsome gold watch as a memento of his visit to St. Louis and the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

In accepting the gift, the prince said: "Every tick of this watch will remind me of the pleasant trip to St. Louis, and of the friendly people who have welcomed me here."

Saturday morning the prince sent to President Francis the gift which was brought over for him—a magnificent panel screen of Chinese blackwood, richly carved, and inlaid with metal, showing the Chinese dragon in the clouds. This screen has been in the imperial palace at Peking for more than 20 years. Other gifts were sent to the various World's Fair officials and to private individuals whom the prince desired to remember for their kindness to him.

In his car Prince Pu Lun held an informal levee before the departure of his train. He repeated all the nice things he had previously said to St. Louis, and added many nice things. He wished it understood that nothing had bothered him, and that he was thoroughly pleased.

The four of them will include Chicago, Indianapolis, Buffalo and New York. On June 1 he will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by the Asiatic Association in New York, and of his departure he has also returned to St. Louis to remain until June 4, when he will return to New York to sail on the French liner La Gasconne, June 16.

The prince learned to speak a few English words during his stay in St. Louis, and Saturday morning he said his good morning and "good-by" to his hosts.

"The prince has used 'yes' frequently," said Mr. Wong in speaking of his linguistic accomplishments. "But he has not said 'no' to a vast number of invitations which he was forced to decline."

SIDE LIGHTS ON THE FAIR.

BY ROSE MARION

CROWDED was the Olive street car, consequently "busy" was the conductor. One man was more worried than all the rest. He didn't know just how or when or whether he should transfer. St. Louis and other towns were strange to him, and he was afraid he'd be carried off to nobody knew where. He was timid, however, and he didn't do more than look his question when the conductor took his ticket.

Worry knocked out timidity before the conductor had rung up three more fares. The car was doing the slow block in front of the postoffice when the man left his seat and caught up to the conductor.

"I want to get off at the World's Fair," he said.

"Stay on," said the conductor. His accent tone was more assuring than his words, and the man minded.

SUNSHINE was vainly trying to find a looking glass in the lagoons. It wasn't quite sure that its rays were all straight, but the "casade" vacation let it remain in blissful ignorance. It spent its disappointment on the poor rays themselves, making them work extra hard.

avenue in order that they might view the Chinese pavilion shrouded their faces from the sunbathers with beautiful umbrellas. Other women played the game of wish and tried hard not to be covetous. The sunshine changed its angry yell for one of pity. It showed a cloud in front of the four rays and concluded that it would follow the example of the cascades. A rain cloud seeing its opportunity came hurrying over from beyond the Philippine pines. In three minutes rain was endeavoring to fill the empty lagoons.

The Japanese maidens did not run into the Chinese pavilion for shelter; they adopted a different method. They closed their umbrellas and started homeward.

WE ARE such a care free people," said Princess Kalanole to me as we sat in the parlor of the Inside Inn and talked of what she called "the Paradise of the Pacific."

"If a man has his own call them yams here, he is content. That means that he is sure of food and he does not worry. Our people have such pretty customs and our life is so simple."

"Our girls stay at home. If necessary they do their own sewing. Of course they go to school. Education is much prized on the islands. Many of our princesses have given their fortunes to endow schools. English is taught in the schools. Most Hawaiians speak it as they do their own language."

The great brown eyes of the princess seemed to see mentally the people of whom she talked so lovingly. Somehow I felt just a little ashamed of Uncle Sam as she spoke. I wish we wouldn't be always pre-empting their native land of freedom for folks that have to cultivate taste by speaking of assimilation.

But the princess showed no ill-feeling against the country that took from her a prospective crown and left her just a congressman's wife.

Instead she told me of one of the pretty customs of the Hawaiians.

"They love their friends, and they show their affection in such pretty ways. If you were a guest at Honolulu and were about to leave for home your friends would come down to the vessel with wreaths of our beautiful sweet-smelling flowers."

"They would throw them about you until you were enveloped by flowers. Thus they give you a sweet good-bye and their best wishes."

Some Useful Advice.

Don't start nervously if a child makes a noise or breaks a dish—keep your worry for broken bones.

Don't sigh too often over servants' shortcomings.

Don't exhaust all your reserve force over petty cares. Each time that a woman loses control over herself, her nerves, her temper, she loses a little nervous force, just a little physical well being.

Don't go to bed late at night and rise at daybreak, and imagine that every hour taken from sleep is an hour gained.

Don't always be doing something; have intermittent attacks of idling. To understand how to relax is to understand how to strengthen the nerves.

Don't fret and don't worry are the most healthful of maxims.

Pockets at Last.

Women are at last wearying of their pretty handbags. They much prefer to utilize their voluminous blouse fronts as receptacles for handkerchiefs, card cases, pocketbooks, gloves and powder boxes.

And since mildy has signified where she desires to keep her treasures the clever

Paris tailor has decided that, rather than have his creations ruined, pockets must be supplied. The result is that fashionable spring models have two little flat pockets in the lining of the blouse coat placed just above the waist line, in the part of the bodice that hangs freest of the figure.

If this idea is not abused the pockets need not spoil the fit of the garment. One may be used for a small handkerchief and the other for a flat case large enough for a few cards and some money.

With such pockets the ever-present fear of losing one's purse will be a thing of the past.

RECENT CONFERENCES IN NEW YORK

Confirm Reports That Maryland Man Seeks Nomination

Recent Conferences in New York Confirm Reports That Maryland Man Seeks Nomination.

WILL ESTABLISH BUREAU POLICE ENTIRELY BAFFLED

His Pennsylvania Friends Called in Consultation—Guffey Believes Indiana Action Strengthened Parker.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 14.—Senator Gorman is again a candidate for the Democratic nomination. It is reported that he counts on Parker not being named on the first ballot and that he hopes to get at the scattering votes thereafter. These facts are confirmed by a leading delegate to the national convention from Pennsylvania and by managers of Judge Parker's candidacy. The meeting here of James F. Guffey of Pennsylvania and James H. Jones of Arkansas was in the interest of the revived Gorman boom, and from now on a lively propaganda in behalf of the Marylander, especially in the South, will be carried on. Unless there is a change in the situation, Guffey and the sixty-eight votes which he controls may be expected to be in line for Gorman at St. Louis. Among those whom Mr. Guffey saw here were James Kerr, former congressman from Pennsylvania, and delegate to the national convention; ex-convict James E. Campbell of Ohio, John W. Hookwater of Ohio and Norman E. Mack of Buffalo, Mr. Kerr and others who talked with Mr. Guffey were free in their expression of opinion that Mr. Gorman is still in the race.

"I do not wish to talk about the action of the Pennsylvania delegation in advance of the convention," said Mr. Kerr. "The candidate who will support will not be decided until the delegates hold a conference at St. Louis. We regard Mr. Gorman as a very likely man to win. Parker's chances do not seem to be very good. I think it will help his chances very much."

DRUG BROKE RUB; MAN SUES GIRL

The Young Woman Admits Charge, but Says Walter Lorrain Should Have Known.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BUFFALO, N. Y., May 14.—Being of an affectionate and clinging disposition Mrs. Marie Du Caim of Niagara Falls confesses that she broke one of the rubbers of Lorrain of Riga, N. Y., by hugging him. Lorrain has been unappreciative enough of fortune's smiles to sue the girl for $2000 damages. Instead of putting in a counter claim, Miss Du Caim in her answer to the complaint reveals some of the riches of her impulsive and ingenuous temperament. She explains all.

The two were in Ottawa, Ont., at the time of the winter carnival. Amateur photographers both, they took many snapshots of the animated scene about them, the splendor of the ice-sheathed trees in January sunshine and the toboggan slide when Jack Frost makes a crowd of young folks all joyous to be alive. There came a day when Miss Du Caim and Lorrain went into a dark room to develop the plates. A lamp shone through red glass upon them at work.

Everyone knows, Miss Du Caim urges in her defense, that rubbers rays have a highly stimulating effect upon the complexion. Scientists have recognized her law, she says, that a person of ardent enthusiasm is like to be over-influenced by light of this color. And for this reason she avers that herself, which did befall.

It is well at this stage to turn to the narrative of the sober Mr. Lorrain. He says that his attention was drawn to the mechanical labor of developing the negative and the artistic sensations of criticising the pictures themselves. He says that while he and Miss Du Caim were so engrossed they forgot to be particularly successful photography, cried out: "Walter, doesn't that make you love nature?"

And so he did. Hence the suit. Miss Du Caim's lawyer remarks further that Lorrain was always by reason of their acquaintance, that she might be moved to such a demonstration at any minute.

The continuance was made by Commissioner Hubert in order that the case may be heard in St. Louis next Tuesday, which will convene in St. Louis next Tuesday.

What Is Likely to Happen When the Two Wise Fighters Come Together Tonight

OLYMPIC CONTESTS THIS AFTERNOON

President Francis Will Inaugurate Fair Contests at Intercollegiate Field Meet.

A pistol crack, instead of the graceful sweep of dipping palm leaves used by classic starters of ancient Greece, will mark the opening of the Olympic contests in the stadium at the World's Fair this afternoon. A series which is expected to be the greatest in the history of field athletics.

President D. H. Francis of the Exposition, who is active president of the Olympic games, accompanied by 30 prominent Exposition and military officials, will be present at the opening and the revolver shot which will open the events will be discharged when he, escorted by F. J. V. Skiff, enters the arena of the stadium.

This afternoon's meet will be for the intercollegiate championship of Missouri and will be between the Christian Brothers College, St. Louis University, Central High School, McKinley High School, Smith Academy and St. Joseph (Mo.) High School. The boys who are entered have been in training over a month and are the pick of their respective institutions.

The stadium has been completed, the track is fast and the weather delightfully cool. More than one world's record is expected to go down.

In the 100 and 200-yard dashes, Mason of the Central High School is one of the fastest men entered, while Smith Academy puts much confidence in Rutter. In the 40-yard dash, Crayler of McKinley High School ought to make a showing, as he won in that event at the St. Louis University meet in the Coliseum.

Weber of the Central High School has a mark of 20 feet 3 inches in the broad jump, but the winner will have a hard fight, as the contestants are evenly matched.

In the high jump Lambert of Smith Academy has good chance of beating Mitchell of the Central High School. Dunson of the latter promises to make things interesting in the 440-yard run.

The relay races will be close. The Central High School's team, which defeated Smith at the St. Louis University meet, is again entered, and will again run against the Smith team.

94 The Central team, the Central High School and Smith Academy will be closely watched. Smith has 15 boys entered, but the Central team is confident it will win the honor for the team scoring the most points.

McKinley High School has only four men entered, but all are fast and ought to take some of the individual medals.

The events begin at 2:30 o'clock.

LUCAS MEMORIAL DELMAR FEATURE

Largest Crowd of the Meeting Present Saturday—Burrows' Coup in Chicago.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DELMAR RACETRACK, May 14.—The largest crowd of the Delmar meeting turned out for the Lucas Memorial stake today. Track conditions were much better and the sport interesting.

Scratches—Dr. Burns in the first race, Vulcan and Gen. Prig in the sixth, and Echodale in the seventh.

Authentic confirmation of John Burrows' tremendous betting coup at Worth yesterday with the speedy Action was received here today. Burrows prepared the horse for the race at the Fair Grounds and shipped him to Chicago two days before sending him to the post.

Action was backed from 20 down to 8 and walked home. Burrows refused an offer of $2500 for Action from Capt. R. R. Rice before shipping the horse to Chicago.

FIRST RACE—Three-fourths of a mile—Caterpillar, 1 to 1, first; Sid Silver, 5 to 2, second; Tommy Foster, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:18 1/2.

UNION'S HANDICAP FEATURE OF THE DAY

Cold Wind and Dusty Track Serve to Cut Down the Attendance Somewhat.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

UNION RACETRACK, May 14.—The weather was decidedly cool at Union Club Saturday afternoon. As a consequence the attendance was not as large as anticipated, but it was nevertheless of respectable proportions.

The track was in excellent condition but a trifle dusty.

Several prominent sportsmen from Chicago were among the crowd.

Interest centered chiefly in the fourth race, the St. Louis Handicap, 1 1/2 miles, a mile and one-sixteenth, with 12 entries, so evenly weighted that each contender has a chance.

FIRST RACE—One mile and a sixteenth, Ore. McKinley 8 (Pipher), 12 to 5, first; T. G. Scarborough 83 (Lee), 5 to 1, second; Chumy 91 (McKinney), 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:37 1/2.

NEBRASKANS WIN 'VARSITY DEBATE'

Washington Speakers Had Task of Attacking Monroe Doctrine as Standard Policy.

Washington University was defeated in debate Friday night at Memorial Hall by the University of Nebraska, which won a record of seven consecutive victories. The visiting team was well supplied with oratory and evidence, having prepared a number of reference charts illustrating the Monroe doctrine as a principle of national policy. Washington upheld the doctrine.

The question debated was, "Resolved, That the interests of the United States are best served by the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine as a principle of national policy." Washington upheld the doctrine.

The debate was opened by Homer Davidson, who made the preliminary remarks on the inception of the Monroe doctrine. John C. McKeag, a senior in law, made the opening address for Nebraska. Fred Armstrong followed for Washington and George Albert Lee for Nebraska. Lewellyn Sale, a senior in medicine, was the next speaker for Washington, and was followed by Burdette Gibson Lewis for Nebraska. Five-minute talks in rebuttal were made by Lee, Armstrong, Lewis and Sale.

Washington conducted the debate on general lines on the theory that the doctrine of Monroe was too radical for the present day, that the nation was now so strong that it need have no fear of the encroachments of other powers, and that it would be better not to confine the country to a strict adherence to the limitations of the doctrine. Nebraska took the ground that in the Monroe doctrine was in the Monroe position as in the days of President Monroe, and that international law would not apply to the conditions the United States may be compelled to face in South America upon the attempt of other countries to obtain a foothold there.

The judges of the debate were J. H. Woodburn, Ph. D., professor of history and politics in the University of Indiana; V. O. Weatherly, Ph. D., professor of economics and social science in the University of Indiana; Judge O. H. Dean, dean of the Kansas City Law School. After five minutes' deliberation the judges decided for Nebraska.

McCOY AND O'BRIEN TO FIGHT FURIOUSLY

Filled With a Desire to Secure a Knockout, Both Men in Tonight's Battle Are Expected to Show Wonderful Mettle.

BY ROBT. EDGREN.

The Next morning, cartoonist and pugilistic authority.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 14.—"Kid" McCoy and Jack O'Brien fight tonight in Philadelphia. This should be the prettiest ring affair of a season that has not lacked for interesting bouts.

"Crafty" McCoy and "Jumping" Jack O'Brien are the fastest middleweights in the ring. The fighting, whether or not it results in a finish before the end of the six rounds, will be furious. Both men are going into the battle filled with the desire to score a knockout. There is only one thing that may prevent this ending of the fight.

Each man knows that his opponent is looking for an opportunity and is clever enough to send in a knockout blow if given any sort of an opportunity. There is so much depending on the fight that both will be careful. But should either leave an opening there will be a repetition of the O'Brien-Ryan fight, probably the fastest and most furiously contested ever seen in a Philadelphia ring.

There is one thing in the Philadelphia's favor in this fight. He has been meeting all sorts of men during the last year or two, from the "ear-marks" to Middleweight Champion Tommy Ryan. No one has beaten him and he has been steadily improving his fighting skill. The "Kid" has been away from the ring for about three years, except for a few sporadic efforts. McCoy has tried to make up for this by training unusually long time for this fight. He started a couple of months ago, and has been working more or less since that time.

Jack O'Brien, who is always in shape, has been working in Atlantic City for his fight. He is at weight now, and made it light. He is a weight now, and made it light. He is a weight now, and made it light. He is a weight now, and made it light.

That is O'Brien's style. He never wins slightest doubt of his ability to carry off the victory. While both fighters are clever at boxing, McCoy is the man with the punch. He has a peculiar knack of hitting, like that of Fitzsimmons.

Should McCoy win he will fight Robert Fitzsimmons next, and then Tommy Ryan. If he can beat these two his fortunes will go up with a bound. If O'Brien beats him, McCoy will be placed among the old timers. In case of winning, O'Brien will have the same chances with Fitzsimmons and Ryan that would otherwise go to McCoy. But if he loses, the Philadelphia will have the hard work of the past two years to do all over before he again reaches the top of the ladder. The fight will be held in the Second Regiment armory, where Sharkey and Monroe met.
